DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

- Claim 15 recites the limitation "H.323" in line 9 is changed by time therefore Applicant needs to submit the Standard of H.323, which includes a time of utilizing.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Art Unit: 2666

4. Claims 1, 4, 7-9, & 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Miloslavsky et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6175564 B1).

- With respect claims 1, 4, 7-9, & 13, Miloslavsky teaches a method and a system for processing calls in a telecommunication system (e.g. the system rout IPNT calls to agent station of Miloslavsky, col. 2, lines, 17-32), which comprises: a packet switch network (e.g. IPNT calls center) is H.323 (e.g. the IPNT system, see abstract for real time voice and video over network); receiving a first call at a telephony device on a network (e.g. steps 202 in Fig. 2); receiving a second call at the telephony device while the first call is being processed (see col. 7, lines 3-5); transferring the second call to a queue (e.g. steps 292 in Fig. 3), which are connected to the packet switch network (e.g. queues teach in the system) and determining a time which the calls are storing in the queue for allowing time (col. 10, lines 1-3); and transferring the second call back to the telephony devices after a predetermined condition or allowing time is met (see col. 10, lines 3-5), wherein the one or more queues define callable entities for the one or more telephony devices to forward the calls (col. 9, lines 59-61), wherein the one or more telephony devices define client endpoint adapted to forward the calls to the one or more queues (e.g. the router forward the calls to the queues, col. 9, line 60)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2666

6. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miloslavsky et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6175564 B1).

- With respect to claim 10, Miloslavsky discloses all the aspect of the claimed invention as set forth above but fails to teach the telephony devices is a hunt group proxy and the hunt group proxy processes the first call by searching for available hunt group member. However, it is a designed choice of inventors to use the hunt group proxy or a router (steps 270 in Fig. 3) to search for an available agent or member. Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to use the hunt group proxy as a method processes incoming calls for searching available hunt group member or the router for looking an available agent.

7. Claims 2-3, 5-6, 11-12, 14, & 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miloslavsky et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6175564 B1) in view of Naudus (U.S. Patent No. 6259691 B1).

- With respect to claims 2, 5, 11-12, 14 & 18, Miloslavsky discloses all the aspect of the claimed invention as set forth above but fails to teach the packet switch network is H.323. Naudus discloses the gatekeeper H.323 (Fig. 1). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention as made to implement the gatekeeper H.323 for exchanging compressed audio and/or video over networks in videoconferencing.

- With respect to claims 3 & 6, Miloslavsky teaches the one or more queues includes one or more timers for determining a predetermined delay during which time the calls are stored in the one more queues prior to forwarding back to the one more telephony devices (e.g. blocks 294, in Fig. 3)

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 15-17 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-14 & 18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
